Colorectal cancer screening just got easier

While colorectal cancer is the second leading cause of cancer death in the US, it doesn't have to be. Screening starting at age 50 saves lives.

Most people are familiar with colonoscopies, but did you know that an annual stool-based test can be done from the privacy of your own home?

A fecal immunochemical test (FIT) screening can be done on your own time and with no drug or dietary restrictions. Your health care provider supplies the test kit and you mail in your sample for analysis. It's that easy.

To learn more, visit camc.org/FITScreening or talk to your primary care provider.
